

Doris J. Shelton

Doris J. Shelton currently serves as the Policy Officer, Human Development Directorate, for the federal government. Ms. Shelton is responsible for establishing policies related to Human Development functions. Ms. Shelton has an extensive background with over 20 years experience in career retention, recruiting, training and development, classification and operations of organizations throughout the U.S. and abroad. Ms. Shelton is an expert in cross-functional team building and leadership, effective communications, project management, organization development, and quality/performance improvement.

Ms. Shelton served over 20 years in the U.S. Air Force. She earned a Master's degree in human resources management from Webster University. She is from Gary, Indiana and currently resides in southern Maryland.